Chapter 1: prolouge

Feathers: Prolouge Axel's p.o.v

I walked silently on the streets of the world that never was. It was really quiet. It was always quiet. Not to mention the fact that it was always night here. The only light source we have is the light shining from Kingdom Hearts. Back to my problem. I've been so lonely . My two best friends were gone. Roxas returned to Sora, and Xion was dead. A loud noise suddenly broke my concentration. It was a high pitched scream of pain and terror. I had no idea what the hell that noise was but I decided to find out. I ran through the streets, trying to locate where the screams were coming from. When I finally found what was making that noise, I stopped and stared. "Sora?" I asked. The boy looked up at me. He was lying on his side. No. that isn't Sora… I'll admit, he had a striking resemblance to Sora . But…it isn't Sora…so now what? That's when I decided to take him under my wing. I crouched down so that I was looking him in the eyes. He was obviously wounded. How do I know this? Because, there was a huge puddle of blood underneath him that was slowly growing bigger and bigger. I carefully picked him up . He whimpered as his eyes began to close. I could tell that he was losing the fight to stay awake. Shit! I need to RTC. And fast! I opened up a dark corridor and returned to the castle. Xemnas isn't going to be happy with what he sees.

Chapter 2: Chapter 1

Feathers : ch.1 white wings Axel's p.o.v. When I got back to the castle, Xemnas did not look happy. (Told you so) "What is that?" Xemnas asked with his eyebrows raised in disbelief. I looked down at the creature in my arms. "I honestly, don't know." I said. "But it doesn't take a brain to figure out that he needs medical attention…..and a bath….." Xemnas and I steadily looked over to Vexen. "Oh! Of course…..I'll get the Lab ready right away." With that being said, Vexen turned on his heels and quickly walked to his Laboratory. My attention was soon turned away from Vexen when I heard Xigbar scolding Demyx. "Get off of that idiot box!"

Xigbar shouted. "I thought the idiot box was the television!" Demyx retorted. When Xemnas got over to them,boy, it was so quiet you could've heard fur shedding. "What is wrong with you two!?" Xemnas asked. There was no anger or malice in his voice. In fact, his voice was devoid of any emotion. "N-nothing Superior… I was just looking at a website I found when I went to investigate that new world last week." Demyx stuttered. "You mean Skyworld?" Xigbar asked . Demyx nodded. "What is it called? And what is it for?" I asked. " The website is called 'Divinipedia'. Demyx answered. " On this site, you can look up heavenly beings, celestial beings, and monsters from hell." Xemnas looked down at the thing in my arms. Then he looked back at the computer screen. He was looking at a tab labeled 'Angels'. Demyx must've seen where Xemnas was looking , because he clicked on the tab. Then, two icons popped up, along with two pictures. One image looked like the….thing... in my arms. The other image looked just like him just a darker version. Xemnas pointed to the image labeled 'Pit'. So, Demyx clicked on it. Turns out, the thing in my arms was an angel. And that's not all…. his name was Pit. Pit? I thought. Who in their right mind would name their child Pit? "Why is Vexen taking so long?" Xemnas asked. As soon as Xemnas asked the question, Vexen came out of the hallway. " The Lab is ready. I also drew a nice hot bath." he replied. "Good, we should probably get him in the bathtub first." I suggested. Xemnas looked at me. "Indeed." He said.
